"Shasta" was the last of the living 97 point Jerseys.

"Blacky" and "Shasta" were two of a kind. They were the type of cows that dairy breeders everywhere looked forward to going out to the barn to see each and everyday.

In a herd accustomed to many great cows, these two cows have brought more interest and visitors to the farm than ever before. Thank you to everyone on their kind comments and many visits to check up on "Barber's Best" and "The Black Cow." They will be missed . . . but their influence continues through their offspring.
